

INTERNATIONAL STUDENT CITIZENSHIP AWARENESS FORM

PGA Golf Management Programs are accredited by the PGA of America to produce PGA members. In order to earn PGA membership, you must be a U.S. citizen or resident alien. However, as the game of golf continues to grow internationally, the opportunity for international students to attend the PGA Golf Management Universities has increased. Therefore, The PGA of America permits a PGA Golf Management University to admit up to ten percent of its students internationally. Upon completion of all program requirements, the international student will earn a Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree in PGA Golf Management from the University of Central Oklahoma and will receive a certificate of completion of the PGA Golf Management program from The PGA of America, but of course would not become eligible for PGA membership. All international students must sign a “Citizenship Awareness” form verifying their understanding that U.S. citizenship or resident alien status is required for PGA membership.

I am aware that the PGA of America requires its members to be either U.S. citizens or resident aliens and that students successful in completing the University of Central Oklahoma PGA Golf Management program will be rewarded with a Bachelor of Business Administration (BBA) degree but will not automatically result in membership in the PGA of America for international students.
